December 1, 2015,

Dear Fellow Texan,

I hope you and your family had a wonderful Thanksgiving. Janet and I enjoyed the holiday with our family and friends in House District 127. Spending time with family and giving thanks were just what we needed during this difficult time for our country and our allies across the world.

In this month's edition of my newsletter, will outline what was going on in Austin and HD 127 this past month, policy focus on implementation of House Bill 4, and our new calendar feature. Additionally, this month, the House Committee on State Affairs will be convening to discuss the topic of sanctuary cities and illegal immigration. While the oral testimony for his hearing is only for those invited by the committee, I would appreciate hearing what you think about these topics. Click here to find out how to contact us.

Please note that my offices will be closed December 23, 2015 through January 4, 2016 to allow my staff to spend time with their families during the holiday season.

If you have questions about other specific policy areas, or need anything at all, please do not hesitate to contact me or my staff. You can find my staff and my contact information at the bottom of this email. We're always happy to help you.

I hope you and your family have a happy holiday season. We will see you again in January.

Sincerely,

Dan Huberty

Rep. Huberty Explains the Importance of A-F School Assessment

On November 19, 2015,

Representative Huberty was joined by fellow House Committee on Public Education member and State Representative Marsha Farney and Sarah Powell, from the UT-Austin Department of Special Education, to discuss the assessment of schools. House Bill (HB) 2804, authored by Chairman Jimmie Don Aycock was an bill that overhauled the assessments of schools, and proposed an evaluation standard that will hold schools more accountable. The new law would require the Commissioner of the Texas Education Agency to assign a rating of A, B, C, D, or F to schools districts, as well as individual campuses for each of the areas outlined in the bill, beginning September 1, 2016.

As a supporter of this legislation, Rep. Huberty explained the benefits to the attendees at Texas Association of Business's "New School Accountability" Conference.

"The current 'thumbs up/thumbs down' evaluation system for schools and districts isn't the best option. By having a pass/fail system, we're unable to address the peripheral problems that could be contributing to a school's failure," Rep. Huberty stated. "With this new system, we are able to more adequately assess schools, and make sure that our students are getting the education they deserve."

November 3, 2015 Elections - Statewide Propositions

During November, the voters in our state decided to pass the seven statewide propositions that Rep. Huberty, along with his colleagues, approved in the Legislature. With voter support, Texas has seven new Constitutional Amendments. For a refresher, the new amendments are outlined below. Rep. Huberty would like to thank all of you for your continued support of the Texas Legislature and their desires to pass meaningful legislation for all Texans:

1. The constitutional amendment increasing the amount of the residence homestead exemption from ad valorem taxation for public school purposes from $15,000 to $25,000, providing for a reduction of the limitation on the total amount of ad valorem taxes that may be imposed for those purposes on the homestead of an elderly or disabled person to reflect the increased exemption amount, authorizing the legislature to prohibit a political subdivision that has adopted an optional residence homestead exemption from ad valorem taxation from reducing the amount of or repealing the exemption, and prohibiting the enactment of a law that imposes a transfer tax on a transaction that conveys fee simple title to real property.
2. The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for an exemption from ad valorem taxation of all or part of the market value of the residence homestead of the surviving spouse of a 100 percent or totally disabled veteran who died before the law authorizing a residence homestead exemption for such a veteran took effect.
3. The constitutional amendment repealing the requirement that state officers elected by voters statewide reside in the state capital.
4. The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit professional sports team charitable foundations to conduct charitable raffles.
5. The constitutional amendment to authorize counties with a population of 7,500 or less to perform private road construction and maintenance.
6. The constitutional amendment recognizing the right of the people to hunt, fish, and harvest wildlife subject to laws that promote wildlife conservation.
7. The constitutional amendment dedicating certain sales and use tax revenue and motor vehicle sales, use, and rental tax revenue to the state highway fund to provide funding for nontolled roads and the reduction of certain transportation-related debt.
